First Mobile App Developer to be ISO certified in Southeast Asia

Bandar Baru Bangi, 7 Mac 2013 - Terato Tech Sdn Bhd (Terato) received the ISO 9001:2008 certification for the quality of their management system. Terato is the first mobile app developer in the region of Southeast Asia to be awarded the certification.

The certificate was awarded by SIRIM through an evaluation process that began in October 2012. The management system quality involves developing enterprise apps, mobile games, research and development, and human resources.

The founder of Terato, Reza Fahmi Razali extends his gratitude to all parties involved with the award of the certificate especially to the Malaysian Productivity Council and the staff at Terato.

“This success proves that even though Terato is relatively still the new kid on the block, we can achieve this recognition with everyone’s collaborative efforts.

I hope this will inspire us to keep on developing products of international standards for mobile devices all over the world.”
